

Ensure peace of mind with a single service contract for all your UPS maintenance needs

Simplifying Resilience

Rehiko leads the power protection industry by delivering innovative technology and exceptional service. In a market where many providers are overstretched, our investments in training, systems and high-quality engineers ensure that time after time our customers rate our service and support as best-in-class.

Established to serve clients looking for Rehiko-levels of support on other brands of equipment, we now have an extensive capability to service and maintain fleets of mixed brand uninterruptible power supplies, centralised emergency lighting inverters and standby generators.

This assures resilient power protection whilst allowing you to consolidate everything into one place.

What We Offer

Maintenance contracts on mixed fleet UPS equipment

Battery, capacitor and fan replacements and upgrades

Site surveys and recommendations

Project Management and coordination support

How Can We Help You?

Range of UPS Manufacturers

We can work on all of your UPS maintenance requirements

Site Surveys and Recommendations

Our expert team can help solve existing site issues

One Contract, Zero Stress

We take the hassle away, with just one contact for all of your servicing needs

Reliable Support, Always

You receive the benefits of our best-in-class service support

Who We Work With

We work with Electrical Engineers and Facilities Managers tasked with maintaining essential power protection systems. Our team of expert engineers excel at diagnosing any issues within your current setup and providing tailored solutions to support your needs.

We replace batteries, capacitors, and fans on a range of UPS equipment, and ensure their longevity through our comprehensive annual maintenance contracts.

“Rehiko’s dedication, expertise and willingness to go above and beyond have not only been crucial to our team’s success but have also made a significant difference to our client. Your guidance and contributions have been second to none and we are incredibly fortunate to have you as a partner.”

Account Manager, company representing independent Law Firms in the UK.

Get in touch with our team and discover how we can support all your power protection needs.

upsmaintenance.uk@rehiko.com

ups.rehiko.co.uk/ups-services/ups-fleet-maintenance/